DIRECTOR'S INTERPRETATION
BY TRUPTI SHIGWAN

It's a pleasure working on brands that prioritize consumer well-being and promote self-esteem. In today's society, where quick judgments and unrealistic beauty standards prevail, it's important to support products that empower individuals to feel confident and comfortable in their own skin.

The fact that this project focuses on a makeup product that encourages a natural and effortless look is especially meaningful. By offering a solution that allows women to enhance their features without feeling pressured to conform to exaggerated makeup trends, it promotes self-acceptance and freedom of expression. This project has the potential to make a positive impact, enabling women to embrace their individuality and feel good about their appearance without fear of judgment, and I'm totally here for it.

CINEMATIC

LOOK & feel

With authenticity, honesty, fun, and playfulness as the guiding principles, my visual approach for the film aims to construct a captivating rosy world. This entails incorporating various shades of light pink and beige, carefully chosen to create a harmonious and visually appealing palette. The protagonist's attire will showcase the presence of pink hues, while subtle touches of pink will be delicately integrated into the interior design.

To foster a serene and soothing environment, the walls will be adorned in a comforting beige tone. The overall effect will be a visually pleasing and immersive experience that aligns with the film's authentic, honest, fun, and playful nature.

CINEMATOGRAPHY & Camera work

The camera work in these films will exhibit a fluid and seamless quality. The movements and transitions of the camera will be smooth, allowing for a continuous and uninterrupted flow. This approach will contribute to the overall aesthetic and create a sense of visual harmony. The fluid camera work will enhance the storytelling, immersing the audience in the scenes and capturing the essence of the film's atmosphere and emotions.

The lighting in the film will be characterized by soft beauty lighting. Creating a gentle and flattering illumination, enhancing the natural beauty of the subjects. It involves using diffused light sources to minimize harsh shadows and create a soft, even glow on the faces and surroundings. The soft beauty lighting will lend a warm and inviting ambiance to the film, complementing the overall aesthetic and adding to the enchanting visual experience.

PRODUCT integration

In the film, the product will be initially introduced to highlight its exceptional qualities, primarily its ability to create a completely natural-looking appearance on the skin and its unique proposition of being lightweight. Standalone shots of the product will be captured, emphasizing its texture and allure, allowing the audience to appreciate its visual appeal. Additionally, the protagonist will be shown proudly showcasing the product, conveying a sense of confidence and satisfaction. These moments will not only enhance the visual storytelling but also serve to demonstrate the product's desirability and its ability to empower individuals in their beauty routines.

Sunlight streams through a skylight, casting shadows, and pink petals float in the air.

LOCATION
& Art

The art space for these films will embody a warm and inviting cozy lifestyle setting, featuring rooms adorned with large French windows and elegant sheer curtains. These curtains will not only add a touch of airiness but will also subtly reflect the lightweight nature of the product being showcased. To avoid a one-dimensional look, the space will incorporate alleys and small corners, strategically designed to create depth and provide visual interest behind the character. In addition, practical wall lights will be strategically placed to emit a soft, warm glow, enhancing the overall ambiance of the space. These warm lights will beautifully complement the beige walls and the gentle pink hues incorporated through accent pieces, resulting in a visually pleasing and harmonious environment.

MY APPROACH TO THE script

In these films, the script serves as a blueprint for the visuals, guiding the overall approach to the film. As the script is delivered directly by the protagonist, my goal is to make it personal and authentic, ensuring a genuine connection with the audience.

The film's structure will be designed to convey a clear message of achieving a natural makeup look. Following this introduction, the product will be introduced, showcasing its unique features and benefits. The film will then transition into the application process, demonstrating how the product seamlessly enhances one's features while maintaining a natural appearance. Finally, the film will culminate with a captivating payoff shot, showcasing the remarkable results achieved with the product. This breakdown ensures a coherent narrative, effectively communicating the value of the natural makeup look and the transformative power of the featured product.

Instant glow without a filter...? It's possible...

The film begins with a close-up shot of a model within an Instagram interface. We witness her exuding confidence as she poses directly into the camera. Rather than applying a filter, she embraces her natural appearance and opts to keep the image unaltered. With a confident demeanor, she slides the filter away, and the camera gradually zooms out, revealing her holding the phone and capturing self-assured selfies.

Pond's BB Cream

With an air of confidence and assertiveness towards the camera, the model smoothly slides the product across the frame, bringing it closer to the lens. Her captivating gaze and poised demeanor convey a sense of recommendation to the audience, implying that she wholeheartedly endorses and suggests the product.

A cream powered by a light foundation

Next, the film transitions to a captivating visual of two liquids merging together. One liquid, resembling a smooth white moisturizer, intertwines with the other liquid, representing a foundation-like substance. As these two liquids combine harmoniously, they form the BB cream, a transformative product. The scene seamlessly transitions to showcase the emergence of the product, highlighting its unique composition and capturing the audience's attention.

That gives you instant spot coverage...

Following that, the film cuts to a close-up shot of the model's face. With precision and grace, she applies a smear of the BB cream liquid onto her high cheekbones. The camera delicately tracks her finger's movement, capturing the process in a fluid and captivating manner. This close-up shot emphasizes the model's expertise in using the product and showcases the smooth application of the BB cream.

and reduces blemishes

Continuing the film, a captivating montage ensues, comprising a series of close-up shots that meticulously focus on different areas of the face. Each shot highlights the remarkable coverage provided by the BB cream, specifically targeting and concealing blemishes.

PARIS

MUSIC

My approach to the music in the films is to create an upbeat and lively atmosphere, predominantly featuring pop music with elements of synth. The soundtrack will be carefully curated to complement the energetic and vibrant visuals, enhancing the overall mood and adding a sense of excitement. The use of catchy melodies, rhythmic beats, and electronic elements will contribute to the contemporary and modern feel of the films, resonating with the target audience and amplifying the positive and uplifting message of the brand.

CASTING

When casting the model for the film, the primary criteria will be to assess their comfort level in being loose, goofy, and fun. It is important to find someone who can effortlessly embody these qualities, as they will play a crucial role in conveying the lighthearted and playful nature of the brand. Additionally, evaluating their basic acting skills will be beneficial to ensure they can effectively communicate emotions and messages through their expressions and gestures. Overall, finding a model who can authentically embody the desired characteristics and showcase their natural charisma will be key in creating a compelling and engaging on-screen presence.
